It will be as great as last year, with maybe even more surprises. If you have any ideas, suggestions, or questions, please do not hesitate to see Scott Kutalek or Mike Graff.

VACANT LEADERSHIP POSITIONS

Our congregation continues to be so richly blessed by our Lord, and we humbly give thanks for His gracious care. At the same time, we continue to search for members to serve in congregational leadership positions that still remain vacant. The position focused on stewardship (i.e., helping members to discover and use their gifts of time, talents and treasures) has been vacant for almost three years now. Also, and of particularly immediate concern, is the vacancy created in our controller position when it was unable to be filled during our elections last November.

Our congregation cannot effectively meet the ministry opportunities that our Lord sets before us without the involvement of congregation members to provide leadership in these areas. I am asking those of you that have graciously been given gifts in these areas to consider anew whether you might serve your Lord, and your brothers and sisters in Christ, via either of these positions. Perhaps it is the case that you may have a heart willing to serve but have doubts about whether you have the "right" talents and skills. If so, at least take the first step and ask to learn more about these positions. We would be happy to tell you more and perhaps help you discover if these positions, or other opportunities, might be ways in which your gifts can be used. Please give prayerful consideration to this request and contact Dave Sitzman (262-627-9194, dasitzman@gmail.com) or any other member of the leadership team to learn more.

Blessings in Christ,
David Sitzman
President, Crown of Life Lutheran Church
