From Principal Stoltz

As I sat and listened to the children prepare for the Christmas service I was reminded of the past. At Christmas time I am sure as parents and students we have many fond memories of the Christmas past. I was listening to the ever popular Christmas song "O Come All Ye Faithful" which is a strong possibility you will sing this Christmas season. What a powerful song and what a powerful message the children proclaim during this year's Christmas service. God has blessed all of us with the Birth of His Son and the children sang of this gift joyful and triumphant. Come one and all to be like the Shepherds and share what you will hear and see.

On behalf of the faculty and staff of Crown of Life Lutheran Church and School we would like to wish you and yours a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Singing

Thank you to all the children and adults who helped to beautify yesterday's two worship services. What an honor and privilege it is to be God's tool in bringing the Good News to all people. Looking ahead, a second semester singing schedule (always subject to change!) will be put in the yellow communicator folders. Also, for those thinking about joining the junior choir, this would be a great time to do so. Please talk to Mrs. Schmidt if interested.

3K-4K News

Merry Christmas! Our final week of school before we celebrate the birth of our Savior. We have a lot of fun activities planned for this week, so you will not find our typical lesson plans.

Monday - Christmas Pajamas

Tuesday - Green Day Wednesday - Red Day

Thursday - Christmas Apparel (ugly sweater, fun dress, hats, etc.)

Our students will finalize some take home projects for Christmas as well as have some special sensory activities, movie time, decorating and more! All will be a surprise for you and the children.

5K News

Thank you, students, for the beautiful job telling the message of Christmas in church yesterday!

This week we can get back to a normal schedule of classes, since practicing is over. In Science we are observing and keeping a journal of the weather each day. In Math we will begin reading, writing and solving subtraction equations. We've been listening to different versions of the Gingerbread man and learning about folktales. We will begin to write our own folktales.

Our Christmas party will start about 10:00 a.m. on Thursday. We are planning some fun activities like decorating a "gingerbread" house. Please send your child's exchange gift to school by Thursday. Also please send the candy you chose to decorate our "gingerbread" houses.

Our Bags of Books are coming home this week. Hopefully during the long Christmas break you and your child can find a little time each day to read together. Remember to fill out the Reading Logs as you read. Returned Bags and reading logs earn a prize from the prize box.

First-Second Grade News

Just a reminder, if your child hasn't brought their gift for the class exchange to the classroom to send it soon. Thursday we will be exchanging our gifts. If you aren't able to purchase one, please contact me and one will be provided so that no one is left out. Remember boys were to purchase a gift (about $10) for a boy and girls for a girl.

Last Friday our class earned our reward for on task and encouraging behaviors. We earned a cozy book day. On Wednesday, we will have special book themed activities. Students are allowed to bring a favorite book, stuffed animal, slippers and a cozy robe, pillow or blanket if desired.

Thank you so much having your children participate in sharing the wonderful message of our Savior in worship yesterday. I was so proud of how the first and second grade students learned their parts and let the joy of knowing Jesus shine on their faces.

Third-Fourth Grade News

It's the last week before Christmas. How crazy is that! We have 3 1/2 days to conquer and we can do this! This week there will be no memory treasures or spelling tests. We will read a chapter book and keep some math going. The store will open as well. On Thursday, we will have our classroom party from 10:00 a.m. until the noon dismissal. Please remember to bring the exchange gifts marked with "from: your name."

Fifth Grade News

The children did a beautiful job proclaiming their Savior's birth this past Sunday. They knew their recitations perfectly! Thank you parents for getting them to practice and church on time!

This week we will not have a spelling test. We will be finishing a grammar chapter and have a test. We are reciting the ninth commandment this week.

We are having a classroom party at 10-12 on Thursday. If you wish to send a classroom snack/treat you may. Gift exchange presents should all be here by Wednesday. We have no lunch here Thursday, and they are dismissed at 12:00 p.m.

Have a blessed Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Sixth-Eighth Grade News

This week, we continued to practice the Christmas service. We also continued our studies in Math. In science, we are still studying cells. In reading, we are reading about the Triangle Fire in New York. We had a new doodle this week, it was a Christmas tree. Congratulations to Jayden, Ava H, Grady, and Taylor for getting Employees of the Month.
